Dear Stan:

The links between the Federal Government and its local counterparts stand out sharply in my small state, and a local public television station wants to bring those links into even sharper focus. I hope you will find time to join with me in the station's efforts.

Jack Barry, newsman for Vermont Educational Television, approached me with the idea of producing a series of 30-minute programs with a number of high-level officials in the Carter Administration. During the show, you and I would discuss the interplay between Congress, the Executive Branch and their local impact while Barry moderates.

Vermont ETV has a national reputation and Barry has put together a number of superior news forums. He has assured me the planned half-hour programs will be offered nationally.

The Vermont ETV crew will be here October 25 and 26. We can tape the shows in the Senate Recording Studio or another location at your convenience.

If your schedule permits, I would very much like you to participate. If you have any questions, please call me or have your staff call my press secretary Harry Jaffe at 224-4242.

Warmest personal regards,

Pat
